

Fire Marshal Training

Full day 9am - 4pm • Up to 15 delegates per session

Certificate awarded to all students on successful completion of the course.

Course Content

The aim of the course is to provide delegates with an understanding of fire safety and the practical skills needed in the event of a fire, specifically looking at the role and duties of a Fire Marshal.

Delegates will receive training about fire legislation, fire behaviour, and fire classifications and receive instruction on correct fire procedures and safe evacuation routines. Looking at how to prevent fires from breaking out and ensuring the safety of others in the event of a fire occurring.

This course also includes live fire extinguisher training. Delegates are taught the correct fire extinguisher handling and operating practices and can experience the use of different fire extinguishers, as well as a fire blanket on real fire.

We ensure delegates have sufficient knowledge and understanding to act confidently and effectively in a fire emergency situation in order to carry out their required duties.

How is the course assessed?

Delegates will be assessed through Q&A, observation of practical assessment extinguishing a real fire and written final assessment.
